ART

CAREER INFORMATION

Art is the study of communicating ideas, thoughts, or feelings. There are various methods of accomplishing this: by painting, sculpting or illustrating. Depending on the particular career you choose, formal training is not strictly necessary, but it is very difficult to become skilled enough to make a living without some training. Many colleges and universities offer degree programs leading to the bachelor in fine arts and master in fine arts degrees. Coursework usually includes core subjects such as English, social science, natural science, art history and studio art. Those who want to teach fine arts at the elementary or secondary levels must have a teaching certificate in addition to a bachelor’s degree. An advanced degree in fine arts or arts administration is necessary for management or administrative positions in government or for teaching in colleges and universities. Just a few of the careers available for art majors are: art director, layout artist, graphic designer, fashion illustrator, record cover designer; cartoonist, and commercial artist. Salaries vary greatly within the field of art. A visual artist can start as low as $17,900 to a high of $42,000 per year; whereas an art curator can earn as high as $100,000.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Not all universities with this major are listed below. The lower division core preparation is listed for universities with which LBCC has established articulation agreements. The first course listed is the LBCC course; the course in parentheses immediately after is the university equivalent. It is generally recommended to take as many lower-division major courses as possible prior to transfer. Please check www.assist.org for the most current articulation information and information regarding minimum grade for each course, impacted major recommendations, application procedures, etc. Moreover, you must see a counselor to develop an accurate educational plan to ensure your competitiveness for admissions for your school(s) of choice. To thoroughly understand admissions and general education requirements please check the catalog of the transfer university. CSU/UC admissions and general education requirements are outlined on a separate curriculum guide.
